So tomorrow is the big day! Go to the "Events" Section to view the map and get directions! Band times are also posted. I want to see everyone out there sportin' their best costumes. Also a reminder: DO NOT PARK AT HOLT INDUSTRIES! They will be towing cars. Hope to see everyone there.

I would like to start off with my deepest & sincerest apology to the band "One Last Shot" for misprinting their name as "One More Shot" on our Halloween flyers, my bad guys. Moving on, THE FLYERS ARE IN!!! We have flyers with the location and directions on how to reach the party. We will not be posting up the map on 23Shots.com until a day or two before the party so if you can't wait until then, feel free to stop by Logan's Rock Bar tonight where Mauckey and myself will be handing out flyers to the party. We'll also be making a stop at The Mix as well but will primarily be at Logan's tonight, we'll also be at Logan's on Friday for DJ Reaper's B-Day, and most likely we'll also be there Saturday, just for the hell of it. It's pretty safe to say that if you stop by Logan's, you're bound to run into one of us there. Anyway, I lost my train of thought so that is all for now.

WEEEEEE'RE BA-ACK

That's right boys and girls after a pain staking search we have found a location for the "3rd Annual 23Shots Halloween Party."

We are looking to break last year's attendance, which means we are looking forward to seeing some new friends out there, but we're not ones to bite the hands that feed, we wouldn't be having the "3rd Annual Halloween Party" if it wasn't for our longtime friends.

You guys and girls are the ones who make it all happen. You always have!!! Once again costumes are a must!!! If you have no costume be prepared to pay a cover charge of $5.00. Beer, Jello Shots, & Trashcan Punch will be provided but BYOB is encouraged.

We are all there to party, listen to some good music, and possibly get laid. So we leave it up to you, Party like a fucking rock star or go to the club for over priced drinks and cheesy costume contests, you decide.

23 Shots Is Finally Up & Running!

Happy April Fools Day! What a day to start a website. Actually, the name 23Shots has been around for quite some time, so far it's hosted 2 local San Antonio bands:

The Martyrs: who are no longer officially together but still play shows every now & then. Speaking of shows, The Martyrs will be playing at the next Alamo City Rollergirls Bout on Sunday, April 9, 2006 (No this is not an April Fools Joke). I'll be posting more information regarding that show real soon so if you're interested feel free to check back within a few days. FYI - The band's website is no longer on the internet but I will be saving a little corner here at 23Shots with some pictures, information on the band, maybe some music clips, and I'll probably put there lyrics back up for all to see. I will also be putting up any information on any Martyrs upcoming shows as it becomes available on those rare occasions when they decide to come out of retirement & play.

Suffuse: currently a cover band putting on energetic shows covering songs from such bands as NOFX, Thrice, Deftones, System Of A Down, Unwritten Law, and a few others. They also have a few originals in their portfolio which is steadily growing with new songs. They will hopefully be releasing a demo real soon so be sure and check out their website for details: www.suffusemusic.com.

So like I was saying, 23Shots has been around for a while but I never actually sat down & forced myself to set up a home page, I was too busy either working, working on band websites, or drinking, and we all know how much of your time drinking takes up, but damn it, "it's just so good, once it hits your lips, it's soo good!"

THE RUNDOWN:

Alright, to give you a quick run down, the "Events" section will feature any "Themed" get togethers or parties if you will. Unfortunately right now I will only be posting like 2 or 3 events, reason being is that I never snapped to take any pictures at our "1st Annual Halloween Costume Party" in 2004 and a few other bashes that were thrown, I know, it's my fault, I just wasn't prepared for the magnitude of these events, I definately didn't expect the turn out that we did have for the Halloween Party, luckily we do have the 2005 Halloween Party pics. The "Pictures" section will have pictures, duh! I'm still debating on what pictures to put up, probably some personal pictures, some local and non-local band & concert pictures, maybe if I see a cool picture that I like I'll just put that up as well. The "P.O.W." section will have a funny or stupid picture every week and will be updated every Sunday. The "Stuff" section will have stuff, the "Contact" section should be self explanatory, and the "Links" section will have links to some local & non-local bands, bars, clubs/music venues, and anything cool that I find out there.

Well thanks for stopping by & checking out the site. Don't be a stranger, feel free to visit anytime or drop me a line on MySpace.
